

Interface Design

Using graph paper, sketch out an interface the viewers will use to interact with the movies you will be creating. This interface should include buttons, titles, movie window, and at least one scrolling text box.

